STATE SHOOT REPORT

By Your Flight Editor, Norman Sparks

Despite the fact that some of the familiar faces were missing from the 30th annual VBA State Championship Tournament, hosted by the Sherwood Archers over the Labor Day weekend at their range in Roanoke, a rather large turnout of 162 archers attended this the final championship for 1976. Undoubtedly, Sherwood can boast that they have two of the toughest ranges in the State as many of the scores indicated.

Tough ranges or not did not stop a fine shooting young archer, the youngest ever to become the Men's Freestyle Champion, from winning this year. Eighteen year old, Rodney Lawhorn, proved his ability by coming up from fourth place the first day, then taking the lead over some very tough competition. Shooting a 554 Field, and 560 hunter and animal, Rodney should truly one day soon be a National Champ.

Tom Ott of Loudoun Bowhunters and Curtis Coleman, a Christianburg archer tied with total aggregate scores of 1672, only 2 points behind the leader. Ott placed second by 1 spot over the first day leader, thus putting Coleman in third spot.

Pansy Norton of NORVA, successfully defended her Women's FS title for the second year posting scores of 524 Field, 540 Hunter and 552 Animal and beating her Northern Virginia counterpart and constant competitor, Ann Boyd of Winchester by 4 points. Ann shot a perfect animal round, the first ever by a woman in Virginia. Madeline Selby, a delightful newcomer to Women's FS, placed third, coming on strong with a 548 animal.

Leading the Men's Barebow division at the end of the first round was George Hamlin of Manassas, but Dennis Cline of Chester grabbed the lead at the end of the hunter round going on to win the championship, with Hamlin second and his fellow club member, Bobby Norris third.

Manassas archers also took the one-two spot in Women's Barebow. Winning the championship was Diane Hottle; Jerri Norris second. Nina Enders of Princess Ann was third.

In Men's Bowhunter, Kenneth Sorrels of Fredericksburg held onto his lead to win, shooting respectable rounds of 461 Field, 480 Hunter, 510 Animal.

Women's Bowhunter AA champ was Cay McManus, who posted rounds of 360 Field, 379 Hunter, and a terrific 468 animal.

The hot, new semi-restricted Bowhunter division was won by Wallace Harris of Lynchburg who turned in impressive scores of 544 Field, 536 Hunter, 552 animal, to set the pace of really tight competition in that division.

All other winners and their scores are listed elsewhere in Flight.

Our thanks to Sherwood Archers for a fine state shoot — 1976.

HELP WANTED

Reporters for "Flight" needed. Anyone having articles about club events, archery stories, or photos, submit them to your "Flight" editor, Norman Sparks before each deadline date. Interesting articles and photos submitted will be used whenever space permits.

ATTENTION ALL CLUB SECRETARIES

The Twenty pins are on backorder with the NFAA. They will be distributed as soon as they come in.

Please send your "Flight" editor an up to date map of your outdoor range so a new map can be assembled and published as a centerfold in "Flight".

POINT OF AIM

by Your VBA President

It was a distinct pleasure to join once again with our many friends and fine archers who turned out for the State Championship. Sherwood Archers, in addition to their usual warm hospitality and excellent food, managed to serve up three days of almost unbeatable weather. By and large, we can say that a great time was had by all. Our many thanks to the members of Sherwood whose efficiency and hard work made the shoot a success.

The feeling of fall is unmistakably in the air, and the primeval urge to the hunt grows stronger each day. Bowhunters across the State are feverishly digging out the hunting gear, checking equipment and repairing tackle. As we take to the woods this season, it may be well that we pause to reflect on a few aspects of hunting that too often are overlooked.

We are all aware that there is more than enough controversy these days over the pros and cons of hunting. Those who oppose hunting frequently use the trick of oversimplifying matters. For example, they would have the general public believe that hunting boils down purely and simply to the act of killing. Further, they picture the hunter as a ignorant, bloodthirsty slob whose only interest is in slaughtering every poor, innocent little creature that comes into his view.

We know better. Suffice it to say there are as many noble, useful reasons for hunting as there are individuals who hunt. But, what do we do about it? On the theory that a picture is worth ten thousand words, we believe the image we reflect will do more to further our cause than anything else. Whereas we are pictured as uncouth jerks who use hunting only as an excuse for a rowdy time or a drinking spree, we need only to show that we know how to conduct ourselves properly in public. We also can gain nothing by getting suckered into any heated, public arguments over the hunting issue. Without doubt, our side of the story needs to be told, but let's reserve it for reasonable discussion under favorable conditions.

Some have tried to show us as Joe Slobs, and they point out the appearance of the worst examples they can find. Well, we all know that hunting clothes (camouflage in particular) are not the most glamorous uniform around, and there are no bath houses in the woods. (After a few days in the woods together, our buddies do seem to get a little rank, don't they?) If we will give this a little thought, and plan ahead, we can find ways to combat the Joe Slob image others have painted of us.

Then there is the picture of the greedy, bloodthirsty poacher without regard for the future of our wildlife. To show the true picture of the hunter, each of us must bear in mind at all times, whether in view of the public or among the hunting fraternity, that we reflect the image of VBA and organized archery. As members, the record clearly shows we are pledged to oppose game violations; our aim is conservation; and, our goal is to perpetuate bowhunting and all forms of archery. We must conduct ourselves accordingly.

Each member may be proud that he belongs to the organization primarily responsible for obtaining every bowhunting privilege available in Virginia. VBA also offers the NFAA Bowhunter Education Program, with which we hope to gain much-deserved recognition of bowhunting as a valuable tool of wildlife management. If each of us in some small way can project the story of VBA and the ideals for which we stand, we may be assured that we have taken a step toward maintaining our bowhunting privileges for the future.

Keep your broadheads sharp, and GOOD HUNTING.

BIG BUCK CONTEST

For the past several years Stan Slivinski, a VBA member and manager of Annandale Sport and Hobby's archery department in Annandale, Virginia has sponsored a big buck contest. Every archer who registers for the contest and takes a deer in the eastern United States with bow and arrow under the rules of Fair Chase receives a prize. The lucky archer who bags the biggest buck receives the grand prize.

Stan recorded the type and brand name of bow and broadhead used, distance of shot, distance animal traveled after hit, weight and sex of deer, and number of points if the deer was a buck.

Presented below are some summarized findings of Stan's 1975 contest

- Number of registered hunters 525
- Number of deer registered - 49 (32 bucks and 17 does)
- Type of bow used: Compound 36, Recurve 13
- Brand name of compound: Bear 16, Jennings 9, Precision 9 Allen 1, and Astro 1.
- Broadhead by name brand: Bear 27, Missile Spike 11, Wasp 5, Black Diamond 3, Mark IV 2, Magnum II 1, Super S1, Pearson 1, Copperhead Slicer 1, Cat Claw 1, and Herter's 1.
- Longest shot 53 yards, shortest 7 yards, average 23 yards.
- Shortest distance traveled 0 (there were several spine shots).
- Longest distance traveled 700 yds. Average distance 101 yards

It would be dangerous to draw too many conclusions from such a small sample, however it appears safe to point out some of the most obvious.

Bear Archery seems to be the most popular supplier of both bows and broadheads in the Annandale area.

Compound bows outnumbered recurve bows by about 3 to 1.

About 1 out of 10 hunters got his deer. This is somewhat higher than the national average. Perhaps the high ratio of compounds with their superior performance helped. Of course the skill of the hunters involved had a bearing on the success ratio too. Probably the single most important factor involved in the relatively high hunter success ratio is Stan's urging to his customers to use razor sharp broadheads and heavy bows.

It was interesting to note that the longest distance at which any deer was taken was 53 yards while the average was 23 yards. These figures indicate that the bow is a short range weapon. Bowhunters should keep that in mind.

The statistics also indicated that some of the deer traveled considerable distances after being hit. Since the typical hunting terrain of the East is often brush-covered with little visibility from ground level, a deer that travels far can present a tough tracking problem. Consequently, bowhunters in this area must develop their tracking skills to a high level so that the number of lost deer is kept to an absolute minimum.

Who won the grand prize for the biggest buck? Carey Price, former VBA Executive Vice President. Carey dropped a beautiful 9 point buck with one clean shot. He used a 56 number Precision Compound, a 2016 Easton shaft, and a shaving sharp Copperhead Slicer broadhead. CONGRATULATIONS!!!
